DETAILED ACTION

Claim Status

1. Claims 4-15, 18 and 19 have been cancelled.
Claims 21-38 have been newly added.
Claims 1-3, 16, 17 and 20-38 are currently pending.

Election/Restrictions

2. Applicants have amended the pending claims and added new claims that are drawn to a number of distinct species that were not presented before the first Office action on the merit. See MPEP 818.02(b) Generic Claims Only — No Election of Species:

“Where only generic claims are first presented and prosecuted in an application in which no election of a single invention has been made, and applicant later presents species claims to more than one >patentably distinct< species of the invention, >the examiner may require applicant to elect< a single species. The practice of requiring election of species in cases with only generic claims of the unduly extensive and burdensome search type is set forth in MPEP § 808.01(a).”

Species Election

3. This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

Applicants are requested to further elect a single ultimate species for each of the following:

- a. A single specific selection of a method of adding the guanidine wash solution either “prior to” OR “after” the addition of the sequencing reaction product. (see claims 23 and 24).
- b. A single specific ultrafiltration membrane with a specific molecular cutoff. (see claims 26 and 27).
- c. A single specific species of guanidine contained in the solution. (see claims 29, 30, 36 and 37).
- d. A single specific selection of a method either with OR without the step of “resuspending” the “purified DNA sequencing reaction product”. (see claim 33).
- e. If applicants elect a method with “resuspending”, applicants are further requested to elect a single specific selection of a method either with OR without the step of “transferring” the “resuspended DNA sequencing reaction product”. (see claim 33).

The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

The species are distinct, each from the other, because their structure and modes of action are different. They would also differ in their reactivity and the starting materials from which they are made. For different species of method, the method steps for each species would differ. Moreover, the above species can be separately classified. Consequently, the species have different issues regarding patentability and represent patentably distinct subject matter. Thus the unity of invention between each species subgroup is lacking.

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

2. The claims are deemed to correspond to the species listed above in the following manner: Please see the above species selection for correspondence between the claims and the species selection.

The following claim(s) are generic: 1-3, 16, 17 and 20-38.

3. The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: The species are distinct, each from the other structurally and functionally, because their modes of action are different. Therefore, the species have different issues regarding patentability and represent patentable distinct subject matter.

4. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

5. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
